

My Mentor Parental

Are you having a baby or just come back from parental leave? Do you want to be able to balance a career and you are just overwhelmed as to which direction to head in? Well, help is at hand – Maureen Frank brings her well known ‘no nonsense’, make a plan, approach to having the career of your design even whilst on Parental Leave. As the mother of twins, Maureen is certainly quite an expert on the subject!

This is a stand-alone kit for women who are planning to take parental leave, are on parental leave or who have just returned from parental leave. Women can utilise the my mentor parental leave program independently, or it can also be done in conjunction with the my mentor – challenging women to make it happen full 12 module program. The program is a short course one stop pack that has been created so it can easily be done in a day, or weekend, or for someone who needs to space it out, over a week.

The program has been created as an advanced short course, with up to date information to help women step plan for parental leave. It also gives them the strategies on what to do whilst on parental leave and how to successfully transition back to work. It helps them face challenges, keep motivated and make their parental leave journey a rewarding and successful one! The format is flexible for busy working women – you can watch it at home, listen to it in the car or on your iPod and fit the workbook in your handbag. Benefits of the program include:

- Cost effective motivational course – able to be done at their own pace
- Follows existing my mentor women’s and men’s program strategy
- Specific parental leave and flexibility learning and skills development

What’s in my mentor parental leave?

- One DVD featuring words of wisdom on parental leave from leading Australian businesswomen (who are also featured on the NEW second edition of Maureen Frank’s successful my mentor series titled my mentor – challenging women to make it happen)
- Two CDs featuring Maureen Frank delivering a complete guide on how they can make it happen before, during and after parental leave using her signature approach – really delve deep and understand what you want and then make a plan!
- Workbook featuring specific parental leave exercises and information to keep our participants on track for their journey

What is the program’s key content?

- Broken into three phases – before, during and after parental leave, the program articulates key strategies women will need to consider at work and at home in order to balance everything on their plates!
- Key advice on what to plan for, what to expect, how to negotiate, how to communicate issues concerning parental leave.
- Practical tips and templates for busy working women about to embark on one of the biggest challenges of their careers – having a baby!
